

PRIVACY POLICY

1. INTRODUCTION

This policy applies to information collected by Kaz Capital Pty Ltd (“Kaz Capital” or “we”). It outlines how we collect and use personal information (including sensitive information) and the measures we take to safeguard that information.

This policy is regulated by the Privacy Act 1988 (Privacy Act) and the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs).

2. PERSONAL INFORMATION COLLECTED

The types of personal information that we will collect from you and hold on file includes information used to identify you, understand your financial position and any other related information necessary to provide you with business services. This may include, but is not limited to, your:

- name;
- contact details;
- bank account information;
- tax file number;
- passport or drivers licence;
- nationality;
- business structures;
- employment information;
- source of wealth; and
- investment information.

We are also required to collect and hold personal information under the Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorism Financing Act 2006 (Cth) (AML Act) and the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act 2010 (USA) (FATC Act), which may include sensitive information in certain circumstances.

The personal information provided by you enables us to perform our functions and activities. Should you not provide any of the personal information that we have requested or do not consent to the use, holding or disclosure of this personal information in accordance with this Policy, Kaz Capital may not be able to provide you with the products or services required.

3. HOW WE COLLECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

The ways in which Kaz Capital will collect personal information provided by you include, but is not limited to, the following:

- the recording of telephone calls; and
- through our own website and systems.

In some circumstances, we may gather personal information about you from a third party or from publicly available information. The third parties from whom we may acquire personal information include, but are not limited to:

- information service providers;

- credit agencies;
- financial advisers;
- fund managers; and/ or
- intermediaries and spouses.

Should a third party provide us with your personal information, it is assumed that you have provided consent for that third party to do so, unless we are otherwise notified.

4. HOW WE USE PERSONAL INFORMATION

The purposes for which your personal information will be used will depend upon our relationship with you and the nature of the products and services you require from Kaz Capital. We will use your information to:

- provide you with products and services in accordance with our Financial Services licence;
- administer and improve the products and services we provide to our clients;
- offer you further products and services (which may include using your information for marketing purposes, unless told otherwise); and
- comply with legal and regulatory obligations under the Corporations Act 2001, the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, the AML Act, the FATC Act and the rules of relevant stock exchanges and ASIC.

Kaz Capital may share client's personal information with:

- strategic partners for the purposes of meeting our obligations under anti-money laundering and counter terrorism financing laws; and
- other service providers which may include, but are not limited to, archival, auditing, accounting, customer contact, legal, business consulting, banking, payment, delivery, data processing, data analysis, information broking, mailing, marketing, research, investigation, insurance, identity verification, brokerage, maintenance, trustee, securitisation, website and technology services.

By using Kaz Capital's services, you consent to Kaz Capital using your personal information for any purpose which is related to the purpose for which it was originally provided.

5. HOW WE STORE PERSONAL INFORMATION

Personal information will be held in a secure environment either in writing, electronically or both. Security measures are in place at Kaz Capital which are intended to protect your personal information from misuse, interference and loss, and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure. You are entitled to request details on the exact nature of where and how your personal information is held by contacting us through the channels set out in part 6: How a client can access their Personal Information.

The key methods of securing the storage of personal information include, but are not limited to:

- secure access to electronic and physical records containing personal information, via password protected access permissions to systems and security pass-protected access to filing cabinets and storage;
- access only to authorised Kaz Capital representatives that need to access the personal information to perform their daily duties; and
- controls relating to how personal information is extracted from the secure environment and how it is used and distributed.

6. HOW A CLIENT CAN ACCESS THEIR PERSONAL INFORMATION

Should you wish to know what personal information we hold on you, you can request to view your personal information by contacting:

Kaz Capital Pty Ltd
